Located between Keadue and Leitrim Village, close to Lough Allen

Would make a fantastic Airbnb Renter

Description:

Original Cottage beautifully extended over the years to spacious hunting style lodge set on almost 2 acre (1 ¾ acre) of mature trees and gardens with ponds between Leitrim village and Keadue with Lough Allen and waterways near by.

The internal footprint pivots around the drawing room with large open fireplace approached through large reception room with entrance hall to the South while a sun room features to the North.

The principle bedroom with 4 poster is also accessed from Drawing room (West).

Maximising on space the galley style kitchen features an upper area with bed suitable for a child. A spacious modern bathroom complete the main living area. An attached guest suite (with en-suite) not connected to the main living areas internally is accessed via the Mediterranean style terrace area. There are 2 additional outside terraces with sheltered surround walls and BBQ oven.

A former stone outhouse was converted to service block utility.

Another detached stone cottage (3 rooms) in original condition on the grounds would be suitable for additional living.

The current owner (over 40 years) planted a large variety of exotic trees including Chinese maple, Linden, Aralia, Fortunnie, Californian Redwood, Sorb Tree, Witch Hazel, Red chestnut, Sweet chestnut, Clematis, Eucalyptus, Oak, Larch birch and fir trees to name a few.

2 large ponds can be found on the grounds.

The setting and eye to external and internal furnishings make this a very unique property. It would be an excellent weekend getaway and do very well as an Airbnb.

The surrounding area with Shannon waterways, Lough Allen at your doorstep, hillwalks cater for all outdoor activities.
